Opposing Madero

(Special from United Press.)

El Paso, Feb. 24—Early today, no cord had reached El Paso from Pasword had reached El Paso from Pascuale Oroszco as to his connection with the new revolutionary movement against the Madero gavernment of Mexico or whether he had approved the signing of his name to a manifesto circulated here yesterday. The manifesto, which bore the name of Oroszco, Emilio Vasquez and a number of other prominent Mexicans, proclaimed that "Francisco I. Madero

Although no word has come from Oroszco, Gonzales Enrile, a prominent Clentifico during the Diaz and De La Barra administration, admitted authorship of the document. He said the new movement is a combination of the Clentifico party with all the factions opposing Madero's in an effort to present a united front against the present government. Many Amthematical models and the status of the general sessions court must be cleared up. He will not, however, oppose Brandt's admission to bail and that will take place early next week, the amount of the bond, $5,000, having been already guaranteed to his attorneys:

It will take three months to get a decision from the court of appeals on the points involved and, in the meantime, no other move can be made in the present government. Many Americans think the movement was made to force action by the United States.

Washington, Feb. 24—Fearing coalition between the Democratic insurgency and Republicans in the House, it was decided today to put "teeth" in the money trust investigation.

Faced with the possibility that 50 or more progressives who, with Chairman Henry of the Eu es Committee, were steam rollered in caucus, will vote with the Republicans for a "real money trust investigation", the lead-

JAMES SAULT A VETERAN OF TWO GREAT CONFLICTS

Hero of Crimean and Civil Wars Dies in New Haven —Daughter Is Mrs. Alfred Fox of Bridgeport.

Decorated for distinguished bravery in services with the eagerly sought 'Victoria Cross," pinned on by the late Queen Victoria herself, James Sault, of Peck street, New Haven, a veteran of two of the greatest wars of the last century, died at his home in New Haven, Wednesday afternoon and will be buried tomorrow. Mr. Sault was the father of Mrs. Alfred Fox of 1094 Iranistan avenue, this city.

Mr. Sault passed a most eventful life, serving in the Crimean war in England, and in the Civil War in this England, and in the Civil war in this country. He was born in England in 1834 and enlisted at the outbreak of the Crimean war in which he was twice wounded at the battle of Alma. It is interesting to note that official records show that Florence Nighting the ward English hereine begale, the great English herolne, be-gan her career as nurse at this battle and Mr. Sault was her first patient. For his service in this battle and his distinguished gallantry under fire Mr. Sault was decorated with the Victoria Cross, pinned upon him by Queen Victoria. To the day of his death, that famous medal, pinned to his old and faded uniform, was rank-ed among his most cherished posses-

For the past two decades Mr. Sault has lived in New Haven, in the employ of the railroad, and has had charge of the vaults of the big corporation. His death followed an illness of long duration during which dent's ideas on the matter was is-sued at the White House, today. It was as follows:

Mrs. Fox was in constant attendance at his bedside. Besides Mrs. Fox he leaves another daughter, Mrs. F. W. "Among the falsehoods that are now being assiduously circulated by persons and papers opposed to the President is one that in his Lincoln Day speech the President argued that the people are not fitted for self-government." President Taft said nothing upon that occasion which could possibly be tortured into any such construction.

could possibly be tortured into any such construction. "The speech in which the President made reference to popular government was delivered at the banquet of the state bar association in New York, on the night of Jan. 20, What he then said on this subject—and it was correctly quoted in the newspapers o nthe following day—was this: "'Popular government we all believe in. There are those of us who do not believe that all peoples are fitted for popular government, The restraint that determines a people is fit to govern itMajority Leader Underwood sent for Henry and offered to allow an amendment to the Pujo resolution instruct-ing the Banking and Currency Committee to investigate, directing that the committee probe such matters "touched upon in the House resolution 405 as come within the commit-tee's jurisdiction."

Reso ution 405 is the Henry measure. Henry agreed to accept the amend-ment, which includes in the resolu-tion a strong indictment of the money trust and the prospect for a break in the Democratic ranks was temporarily removed. For three days the progressive Democrats had been dickering with the insurgent Republicans who under Norris, (Rep., Neb.), and Lenroot, (Rep., Wis.), will make a fight to secure the adoption of the original Henry resolution, Radiators on old cars, which are not provided with flexible connections to protect them from the effects of frame distortion, frequently can be rendered less prone to spring a leak if a pad of thick rubber matting be inserted between the bottom of the radiator itself and its cradle on the frame. The expedient is easily tried, and, whatever its other effect, bas the merit of dampening much of the vibration to which the element otherwise will be subjected.

When the radiator steams it is usually due to one of the following causes: Poor lubrication (indicated by groans from the motor), not enough water in the system, leak in water system, mixture too rich, crack in the cylinder, circulation system clogsed (examine hose connections), slipping fan belt and traveling too long with retarded spark.
